BIG IDEA:

Jayden’s big idea is to create a mobile workshop called “The Art & Maker Bus” that seeks to bring creativity, art and play to underserved neighbors.

The Art & Maker Bus is designed to provide access to creative learning opportunities, arts and entrepreneurship training to BIPOC communities across Rhode Island and offers exposure for artists of color.

HOW WILL HE DO IT?:

The Art & Maker Bus is a state-of-the-art vehicle filled with art supplies, technology and educational resources geared to provide a high quality learning experience to communities of color.

The bus will partner with local artists and educators and will travel across the state and provide learning experiences and various workshops geared to both BIPOC youth and adults. The bus will also function as a mobile art gallery that will allow BIPOC artists to showcase their work and gain exposure.
